A little Cool history.....

The Super Cooler pictured here was created in the spring of 2002. It was the handiwork of two Americans who clearly understood the importance of having fun. The Super Cooler became the first ever ride-on cooler of the world and made its historical debut at the 2002 Watkins Glen NASCAR races. Throughout that entire weekend, the old amusement factor was pushed to new heights. Shortly after the races, and after so much encouragement to build more, a U.S. Patent was applied for. After four long years and abiding patience, the patent was finally issued. America now has, and always will have, the only patent in the world on this very cool and very fun invention.
